Our opponents must be measured by their dueds and not by their professions. The Fifty-first congress wrote the blackest page in our legislative history and became a thing of the past. It challenged the approval of the respit, and they respended in times so perfectly that the seemed the veloc of field. With a quantity that finds no parallel in the story of popular government they determined that a billion was far too much to pay for such a mission of freaks. If we but permit it, they will stand by their vegetict.

It we but pormit it, they will stand by their worklet.

That our came may triumph, let us work in tradeness in the heat of contention let us not forget that our pulitical brother may be just as homest and perhaps better informed impoled by one purpose, and that pumpos the public good, we will rese ourselves from the bickerings and heart-burnings that characterized the ropublican party when its Marshal Nev went down at Minneapolis before the mailed legions of the hearing, but thore was no great authorisement of the marshall may be the convention thereof and butter brighted.

Mr. Dubo's Sain:
Ms. Raip. The national convention recently held in Minneapolis selected a representative from each state and territory from among its delegates to notify you that the great repullican party of the nation had selected you as you this distinction

The American people appreciate the patient and lakiliful diplomacy by which you opened the markets of France to the products of the American farmor. The securing of a market is the ultimate object of all nations in modern politics, and your success in that great fished will command for you the hearty approval of the producers of the United States. We believe that the people will sustain republican principles, will indorse the personality of our standard beavers, and that the wasdom of our rection at Minnapolis will be fully demonstrated by our trumphant election at the polls in November next.

In response Mr. Reid said:

mont of our party principles, put forth by your convention. I may say at once that Jaccapt and adopt them in full. They are the principles of the party under the sway of which the country has attained its phenomenal growth and prosperity. Under which the plain people have ruled; labor has been freed, hencred and better rewarded than alsowhere; the largest example of equality before the law the world has yet seen has been secured, and aducation, unorality and the general welfare have been promoted. To reject those principles and this party would be to indict the glorious history of the nation for almost tha past third of a century. You find a natural leader in the eminent public servant, the substantial results of whose wheelmant faithful administration furnish such inspirintion for the canzas. I had expected to find associated with him, my distinguished friend, who now adorns the office of vice-president. As the delegation of my state, and with it, the representatives of the party at large have thought it politically wise to achieve to the dectrine of rotation in office, it gives me the right to claim, not merely the earriest support of a united party, of which we are sure, but the best counsel and the most watchful personal assistance of all its fatitud and experienced leaders with out exception, to the end that this great commonwealth may again throw its decileton for my friend in see many presidential compaigns, the great statesman whose present cruel bersevement, following hard upon two similar hievanhas touched the tenderest sympathy of all, not merely of the profession will appreciate the finance in which this momination has been made and announced, doriving an added grace, as it does, from the unanimous wote, from the character of this body of representative mon from every section of our country.

Nevertheless this is being pushed to-night, and the New York leaders are as hard at work as if the contest had just begun. At 6 o'clock they reopened the remarking of this return and issued a manifesto declaring, as did the resolu-tion of last night, that Mr. Clove-land could not obtain the elec-toral vote of New York state if nominated. This was signed by every delegate from New York state, including James H. WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying to the practical character of ROOK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occupied by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.

That the season has been backward and that consequently sales in all lines in the way of seasonable merchandise have been backward. This is only another way of saying that times in the shoe trade have been dull. We may have dull times but we will not have We may nave dull times but we will not have sales missing at our house. We may be unable to reap the profits which are the legitBoyle. imate expectation of every standard shoe may be disappointed as to profits, but we must and will sell more every year than we did the year preceding. We know that we have advantages over all competitors in the matter of getting goods, know that we can own them cheaper, that we can sell them for the same price that the ordinary retailer buys them for and yet make a small margin. We are not asking for anything more now. Better come in and buy. We have the goods and the prices to make the sales if you can be induced to buy anything in shoes

The Abel Carpet Co. is now located in its new quarters in the new Ennis Building at No. 143 North Water Street. Owing to the anxiety of the Hatch Bros. to get the building which we vacate and the consequent wish of Mr. Busher, the landlord, to fix the building for his new tenants, we have been constrained to move some before we expected to. Consequently we shall for the next ten days continue to sell cut of our old stock at so very much less than value that cost will seem no consideration. We believe that this Bargain Sale will induce all our old friends to come and see us at once in our new location. And we are certain that the bargains offered are not likely to appear in the carpet business soon again. Our friends should come and realize the benefit. Come, see us, the goods and prices will do their own talking after we have a chance to greet you in our new stand.
